

Sujets tâche finale :

➤ Option 1: Choose a role :

- Your neighbour is a slaveholder. Without revealing your secret activities as a station master, you try to convince him he should free his slaves.
- You are a slaveholder. Explain why slaves are necessary for you and you can't free them.

1. make a list of (at least 5) arguments

2. anticipate your opponents' arguments so as to be able to counter them

3. work on your pronunciation and intonation (stressed syllables) - especially of the words of the mindmap. Determine the words that will be stressed

4 Practice saying your arguments convincingly aloud. Record it once for you (so you hear what's it like)

➤ Option 2: You are a station master in the Underground Railroad. You have been invited by the American Anti-Slavery Society to make a speech to encourage black and white people to commit to freeing slaves from the South and fight against slavery. Write your speech (EE) and you deliver it orally (EOc)

- 1 Write your speech, making sure you use cultural references and vocab from the lesson. Make sure you organise your speech, making paragraphs
- 2 Look for the pronunciation of all key words + practice pronunciation and intonation of the words of the mindmap
- 3 Determine and underline the words that will be stressed.
- 4 Practice reading your speech (3-5 times). Record it once for you (so you hear what's it like)
